

CAREER SUCCESS TECHNIQUES TO EMPOWER YOUR TEEN

A. Learn how to engage your young adult in conversation and help them develop crucial but easy networking skills.

B. Learn to get along with Managers, Collaborators and Friends

A. PERSONAL COMMUNICATION AND NETWORKING

WHY DOES IT MATTER? The nature of Work is changing

- Data vs Knowledge: We are evolving from a proprietary knowledge economy into a global, democratized knowledge economy.
- Increased Automation: With an increase in AI, VR and Robotics leading to more automation of manual repeatable tasks, we will be relying on interpersonal skills.
- More independent work: Learn to work to project not to time, and be comfortable with a range of projects
- Personal skills matter: Relationships, communication and networking are going to be necessary skills that most young adults should learn to embrace.

Empowering and Enabling Techniques:

- Focus on interpersonal skills
- Its not 'networking' but 'connecting'
- Learn to use LinkedIn
- Learn how to ask Google the right question and how to evaluate the information you get back
- Work to project delivery, not to time

B. INTERPERSONAL CONNECTIONS

WHY DOES IT MATTER? Getting along with Managers, Collaborators and Friends will reduce sources of stress

- Personality, Communication and Learning styles can be a source of conflict
- Manage your Manager by understanding yourself

You will leave with 2 or more strategies to help manage conflict and stress:

- Understanding your own personality type can reduce miscommunication.
- Simple techniques and habits to improve your networking & connecting skills

Presenter:

Karena de Souza

Founder of FutureCasting

Futurecasting.ca / Karena@Futurecasting.ca

As a strategist, futurist and parent, Karena is constantly watching for trends that can impact the Workplace. We are at a particular inflection point in history, causing a great change in the way we will work – similar to the switch from the Agricultural Era to the Industrial Era.